Peace Outlook Remains Foggy As 1953 Wanes

WASHINGTON (A) - The year 1953 is now 91/2 months old. What have those months brought the world in the way of peace? Only one tangible thing: The cease-fire in Korea. But there is no certainty that even a Korean peace conference can be held - which is typical of the uncertainty about peace in general - so great is the division between East and West.

One Big Surprise But the year was not without at least one surprise, hope, shock, and shift in mood. The surprise: Stalin's death, March 6. The hope: That his successor, Malenkov, might change tactics, seek peace. The shock: Russia's revelation of its progress in making the hydrogen bomb. The shift in mood: A greater sense of urgency in the West in finding peaceful solutions before Hydrogen

The educator who fought James Petrillo. the musicians union czar, and won, is now ready and willing to fight Gov. Williams, the legislature, the State Conservation Commussion and even the state's convicts M required.

Maddy was successful in his fight to permit student musicians to broadcast from the National Music Camp: no doubt he will be equally successful in his latest effort to halt construction of a state work camp for convicts which would be located less than four miles from the nationally famous music camp.

Adding weight to his argument that such a convict work camp would endanger the young musicians is the escape of two felone Saturday night. They abducted two men and 15-year-old boy in their flight and later released them unharmed.

"The establishment of a labor camp for 75 or more convicted criminals within walking distance of Interlochen constitutes a dire threat to the very existence of the National Music Camp. Such a camp is now under construction despite vehement protests by the residents of the area; by the National Music Camp ; by the Michigan State Federation of Women's Clubs and by the Michigan Federation of Music

Prof. Maddy points out that most parents would not want to risk having their children return to Interlochen "and face the risk of criminal violence from socalled 'trusties' living within walking distance of your camp."

He reports that he has writen to Gov. Williams to protest and he has not received a reply, although construction of the prison camp continues.

"It is high time for all loyal National Music Camp campers to join in the battle to repel this vicious sneak attack," he declares, adding that they should write to their state senator, representative, governor and state officers to protest.

THE LETTER-On Oct. 2 Prof. Maddy wrote Gov. Williams to oppose the prison work camp plan, asking the governor's support in delaying further construction until a public hearing has been held and the facts made public.'

The venerable educator voiced his protest in strong language.

The prison camp was literally sneaked into the area without warning, even without the knowledge of the township board-governing body of the township in which the prison camp is located." Prof. Maddy comments with the enthusiasm of the born fighter: "Once the people of this nation went to war to prevent 'taxation without representation'. Now the people of Michigan are expected to submit to 'confiscaion without representation' because of the high-handed biased, power-exalted, vindicative acts of the Michigan Conservation Commission and its employes. "What mother would send her daughter to a summer camp where criminals were working just across the road, or where a prison labor camp was located within walking distance-when they know that

The story is given by Dr. H. H. Newman, physician, and Dr. Nicholas Di Salvo in an exhibit at twoday ceremonies marking the 25th anniversary of Columbia University-Presbyterian Medical Center.

Their exhibit says some of the world's worst fed people have the best teeth, while many people getting vitamins and balanced diets have decay. Toothbrushes have only limited usefulness in preventing decay, heredity has little effect, while fluorides in drinking water may be helpful, they added. They theorize that teeth, like

Sign Contracts For Generators

Formal signing of contracts with the Elliott Co., Pittsburgh Pa., to purchase two 3,000 KW turbine generator units and two 2,750 square foot condensers at a total cost of $411,340.00 marked the regular meeting of the City Commission Monday evening.
